

September 1, 2016

Members of the public can now buy gas monitoring products for the beverage and hospitality industry through www.analoxsensortechnology.com

This means that you will be able to place orders for establishments such as pubs, hotels and restaurants, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week – wherever you are in the world.

Products you can buy include the Ax60, Ax60k and CO₂ Aspida, O₂ Aspida and dual Aspida, plus their spares and accessories.

You can also sign up and register your interest in the new Ax60+ multi-gas monitor.

If you would like to buy gas monitoring products for the beverage and hospitality industry, please click ‘create account’ at the top right hand side of the Analox web site

You are able to pay by Visa, MasterCard and Maestro, and we accept Pounds Sterling, US Dollars and Euros.

The online purchasing service will be available in the US and Canada shortly.

Patti Clarkson, Vice President of Sales and Marketing for Analox USA, said: “We’re looking forward to launching the online purchasing service in the US and Canada. Analox manufacture a range of products for the beverage and hospitality and we are proud to make them available for the public to buy. It’s really simple to sign up for an account, and customers will be able to order up to three of each product per transaction.”

Online purchasing is not available in the UK, Ireland, Australia, Germany, Switzerland and Austria, but we would be delighted to put you in touch with your nearest distributor.

For more information visit our buy online page.